

Ridolfi hires environmental scientist

August, 2008 – Seattle

Ridolfi hired Devon R. Hayes as an environmental scientist.

Hayes recently graduated from Antioch University with a master of arts in environment and community. At Ridolfi, she will provide support for environmental remediation, ecological restoration, environmental policy analysis, community-based planning and field operations.